CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

Fresh Ranch Butter from the ranch of J. H. White at Wolcott's Cash Store. 37 1/2

CALIFORNIA has had another shaking up. Two in one week are uncalled for.

THE Searles will case has been settled by the payment to Tim Hopkins of $8,000,000.

THE temperature at Fresno has gone down to 102 at midday, and the press of that city say that winter is setting in early this year.

THE most encouraging bit of news which has been sent to Arizona in a long time is that General McCook has recommended the removal of San Carlos Apaches.

THE commissioner of Indian affairs has written a letter to Dr. Dorchester, superintendent of Indian schools, instructing him to visit the contract schools and subject them to the same thorough inspection made in government schools.

Mr. George Pullman, who controls the stock of the Pullman company, has decided that the capital stock shall be increased from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000. This is the eighth time the capital stock has been increased within the last twenty years, starting with a capital of $16,000,000.

GENERAL McCook, commanding the Department of Arizona recommends in his annual report to the Secretary of War, that the San Carlos Indians be removed from their present reservation to some point east as the temperature there in midsummer is 110 degrees in the shade and to keep Indians and troops there is inhuman.

ADVICES from various Russian points state that peasants are flocking into the towns from the country districts, perishing for food, many dying in their tracks. The cold is intense and the wanderers have no fuel. Incendiarism and pillaging are spreading. The local authorities are everywhere paralyzed for want of funds.

THE Madrid papers quote from the recent circular of the Governor-General of Cuba that after the lapse of the commercial treaties next February the "most favored nation" clause will cease to operate. The United States alone will thus reap advantages from the concessions granted by special treaty with Spain.

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees.

A Germ Disease. The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expels them, heals the places they leave, and so nourish and soothe that, in a short time consumptives become germ-proof and well.

SOME QUEER EXCHANGES.

Odd Advertisements Found in English Newspapers.

London boasts a weekly journal with a large circulation through whose columns some queer exchanges are carried on. The following are taken at random:

"Grandfathers' clock, oak case, eight-day, good condition, thirty shillings cash, or will take half a dozen undershirts. Apply to the Rev. Cleveland, Yorkshire."

"A handsome new dress is offered in exchange for a bookcase, three feet high, with glass doors; also a hall table and occasional chair."

"A sponge bath for sale cheap, have no further use for it." The next line intensifies the humor of the preceding: "Will take half a dozen new or a dozen second hand silk pocket handkerchiefs."

Half a dozen demands appear for boots. One gentleman, who signs "Army Officer," says: "I have top-hunting boots, small eights, very good; will take a Stilton cheese or a dozen bottles of sherry in exchange."

Now look at the next advertisement: "Wanted—New boots for a family of seven; good exchange given, or arrangements can be made for instruction in bicycling and French."

"I am ill," says a lady; "will anybody take my handsome, quite new dark gray velvet bonnet from me? It cost me thirty-five shillings. I will take two quarts of codliver oil, a packet of mustard plasters and one hundred quinine pills in exchange."

And here is something unique:

"Anything useful to the value of one pound will be gratefully accepted by a reformed young man who wishes to part with his dress coat and vest; plain cloth, new; would suit person of five feet eight inches, with chest of thirty-seven inches; do not care about offers of jewelry, billiard balls or cigars."

FROM RUFF TO NECKTIE.

The Difference Between Modern and Ancient Neckwear.

The necktie, now become a purely ornamental detail of dress, was originally useful. It was intended to protect the throat. Its history may be traced from the time of the Stuarts in England, when immense ruffs, which served as neckcloths and collars, were worn.

Later neckcloths or cravats were adopted, and no doubt were a welcome change from the stiff, uncomfortable ruff. They were of Brussels or Flanders lace, tied in a knot under the chin, the ends being allowed to hang square. Still later they were worn much longer, the ends being fastened through the button-holes of the waistcoat.

The lace neckcloth, says Youth's Companion, was succeeded by small cambric bands, but was reintroduced in Queen Anne's reign, and did not go out of use entirely until about 1735. Then a broad silk ribbon, tied in a large bow in front, was worn, and this in turn was followed by white cambric stocks buckled in the back, and by muslin cravats which were tied in front in an immense bow.

In the early part of this century the stiff linen collar had begun to be worn, and the cravat was passed twice around the collar, and tied in a fanciful bow in front.

About 1820 cravats were made very wide in the center, and tapered off toward the ends. Thirty years ago stocks and cravats began to disappear, and scarfs began to take their place. From these scarfs, gradually growing smaller, was developed the modern necktie.

AN ODD LIGHT.

A Simple Method of Illuminating Without Matches.

To instantly obtain a light sufficient to read the time by a watch or clock at night without the use of matches, and without the danger of setting things on fire, is an easy matter. Take an oblong vial of the clearest of glass, put into it a piece of phosphorus about the size of a pea, upon this pour some pure olive oil heated to the boiling point; the bottle to be filled about one-third full, then cork tightly. To use the light, remove the cork, allow the air to enter and then recork. The whole empty space in the bottle will then become luminous, and the light obtained will be a good one. As soon as the light becomes dim its power can be increased by opening the bottle and allowing a fresh supply of air to enter. In very cold weather it is sometimes necessary to heat the vial between the hands to increase the fluidity of the oil, and one bottle will last a winter. This ingenious contrivance may be carried in the pocket, and is used by watchmen of Paris in all magazines where explosive or inflammable materials are stored.

LOOKING FOR HUSBANDS.

PENELOPE—"What would you suggest as favors for our next german, Dolly?" Dorothy (unhesitatingly)—"Husbands."

REVIVALIST—"Young lady, which road will you elect, this night, to follow?" Young Lady (blushing)—"I'd rather prefer the bridal path."—N. Y. Herald.

ETHEL—"It is impossible to love more than one man at a time with sincerity." Maud—"True; but, thank heaven, we can have more than one man love us sincerely at a time."—N. Y. Herald.

"I'm just angry the way those gentlemen are staring." "But they're not staring at us," remarked the other young lady. "I know it, and isn't that enough to make one angry?"—Philadelphia Times.

"Was that your brother walking with you in the park yesterday?" asked the old gentleman jocosely. "My brother?" she replied. "Indeed it wasn't, and what's more, he's not going to be if I can help it."—Philadelphia Times.

SINCERS

Public speakers, actors, auctioneers, teachers, preachers, and all who are liable to over-tax and irritate the vocal organs, find, in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, a safe, certain, and speedy relief. It soothes the larynx, allays inflammation, strengthens the voice, and for whooping cough, croup, sore throat, and the sudden colds to which children are exposed, this preparation is without equal.

William H. Quartly, Auctioneer, Milton, Australia, writes: "In my profession of an auctioneer, any affection of the voice or throat is a serious matter; but, at each attack, I have been a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy, with ordinary care, has worked such magical effect that I have suffered very little inconvenience."

"Having thoroughly tested the properties of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral as a remedy for bronchitis and throat affections, I am heartily glad to testify to the intrinsic merits of this preparation."—T. J. Macmurray, Author and Lecturer, Ripley, Ohio.

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has cleared and strengthened my voice, so that I am able to speak with very much more ease and comfort than before."—(Rev.) C. N. Nichols, Pastor of Baptist Church, No. Tisbury, Mass.
